

JOIN YOUR FRIENDS THIS SUMMER

The week will combine Improvisation, scene work and developing onstage skills for young actors.

Performers will play games and work creatively to explore character development, movement, and story-telling.

The camp will include the rehearsal of a short show to be performed at the end of the week.

To apply for tuition assistance, visit the Teen Drama Camp page on our website and click the link for the form, or call the office at 207-864-5000.

Let's Get Into the ACT

Talley Murphy has directed the RFA teens for the last three years, and has been involved with RFA and Dodgeball Theatre summer youth programs since 2008. She studies theatre at Barnard College, where she's currently completing her senior thesis in directing. Most recently, Talley directed Romeo and Juliet for Awake At 3, A Midsummer Night's Dream for RFA teens, Macbeth in the Basement for the Capital Fringe Festival and A Wrinkle in Time for Columbia University Players. Talley's work focuses on young artists, collaborative productions, and classical texts.
